San Francisco Brewers May Make Real Lager

Beer With a Five Per Cent Kick May Return

Acting under the injunctions issued yesterday in Kentucky and Rhode Island against federal officers enforcing the wartime prohibition act, the liquor interests of California will ask a similar injunction in the U. S. courts here.

In commenting on the eastern decision Judge W. W. Morrow of the U. S. Court of Appeals, said: "Any such decision by a federal court of similar jurisdiction in another state would receive the most respectful consideration of any federal court sitting in California."

Rudolph Samet, president of the Brewers' association, and Theodore Bell, the association's attorney, are confident the injunction will be granted and that the manufacture of 5 per cent beer will recommence.

David Starr Jordan Armistice Day Speaker

Among the numerous attractive features in Richmond's Armistice Day parade the One Minute Girls and the Boy Scouts deserve especial mention. Both organizations elicited words of praise for their fine appearance and the enthusiasm and patriotism they displayed in a worthy cause. Upon this young generation depends the perpetuation of American ideals. The girls did excellent work in garnering silver dollars for the Red Cross, an organization which did an enormous work in winning the war, and is still continuing its energies in helping thousands of veterans who have been maimed, shell-shocked and made helpless by a terrible war. Other features of the parade deserve praise.

The program at First street park was greatly enjoyed by thousands, the large enclosure being filled to "standing room only" capacity. Among the speakers of prominence were David Starr Jordan and Rev. Thomas Boyer.

The first anniversary day of the signing of the armistice will long be remembered in Richmond. Not the slightest event occurred to mark the passage of this new and notable holiday.

Registrars Appointed

The registrars appointed to take the school census of Albany school district are Mrs. Nellie Spatz, Mrs. Angie Hanscom and Mrs. Jennie Prizer.

Armistice Day One to Mark Epoch in History

Armistice Day in Richmond was celebrated in a way that made the oldest inhabitant sit up and take notice. The parade, largely composed of workingmen, was the largest in the history of the city. It proved conclusively that Richmond is an industrial city, and that the Standard Oil Co. is the chief employer of labor, skilled and unskilled of both sexes. They were in the parade several thousand strong, which is peculiar proof that without the employes of this great industry, Richmond's Armistice Day parade would have been of diminutive size.

The S. O. company's product was one of the main factors in winning the war. Thousands of the company's employes were at the fighting front, and many of them are now sleeping in Flanders Field.

This company treats their employes kindly, pay top wages and protect and care for thousands of men and women in a way that secures the best of service and guarantees loyalty. The big demonstration on Armistice Day proved it beyond question.

Railroad Men Form Plumb Plan League

A Plumb Plan League has been formed in this city by railroad employes as a means of carrying on a campaign for the adoption of that system of railroad control by Congress.

A. H. Spencer of the Railway Clerks' union is chairman and C. M. Cooley of the Railway Carmen clerk.

Meetings are held every Monday night at the labor temple.

A Red Cross Benefit That Wouldn't Work

San Diego is a sensational city—always pulling off some stunt to attract the tourist and advertise. Recently the firemen put on a benefit for the Red Cross drive, in which a beautiful girl of that city was to figure as the star. Marjorie Bennett was to pose on the cornice of a four-story building and jump into a firemen's net. A policeman dashed to the top of the building just as Marjorie Bennett in silk tights was about to make the dive. And thus another thrilling episode for the movies was thwarted.

That Harry Beyers Is Made of Rubber, Is Belief of Friends

Harry Beyers the man who deals in "Cold Victrolas," at 10th and Macdonald, was knocked off his bike again Monday, which makes about the seventh time, and Harry is still "kidding the undertaker."

It is impossible, and can't be done—that is, to kill off a fat man, especially when he is composed of material so resilient, like Beyers. Bystanders say that when the truck hit Harry, the sound of the concussion resembled that of a "kick off" in a football game. Beyers went up and UP, shook hands with the airplane artist who was several hundred feet above the Elks building, and then landed safely on his bike at the curb in front of his store, just like a movie stunt.

Beyers says "it's hard to keep a good man down."

The identity of the murdered woman found in Franklin canyon has not been cleared up satisfactorily, but it is expected the mystery will soon be solved.

New Ferry Company to Start Stock-Selling

It is reported by good authority that the application of the Richmond-San Francisco Ferry Co. to sell stock will be granted by the railroad commission, and that the stock selling campaign will start at an early date.

It is understood that the proceeds from the sale of stock will be expended for the equipment of the ferry line and to acquire terminals. The terminal of the line at Richmond will be at the southern extremity of Tenth street, or at Ellis Landing and Dock Co.'s site, which is said to have been acquired by the ferry company.

Many of Richmond's well known business men are directors of the company.

The complete directorate, as it appears in the application to the railroad commission, is as follows: R. H. Kueffer, C. G. Bacon, C. E. Clark, O. K. Ludwig, G. N. Rooker, John F. Galvin, C. S. Renwick, F. E. Langleine, F. K. Beck and M. Esquibel.

Passing of Chris Miller, County Line Pioneer

Died—Christian M. Miller, Nov. 11, 1919, at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Anna M. Meyer of Berkeley, aged 63, native of Denmark.

For thirty years Chris Miller resided at his home on San Pablo avenue at the corner line in Albany. He was a man of wide acquaintance on account of his being identified with various public affairs. He was district road overseer for twenty years, when ill health caused him to retire.

Miller was a member of the first board of education elected in Albany, and donated his large barn at the county line for the accommodation of Albany's school children in pioneer days.

He served as city marshal a number of years, and subsequently engaged in business at the county line, which is now conducted by Henry Miller, his son.

Since the passing of his wife Louise M. Miller, three years ago, Miller began to decline until his death, which occurred at the dinner table at the residence of his daughter in Berkeley.

Funeral services were held from 2434 Telegraph avenue, interment in Mountain View.

RANDOM COMMENT

As an appropriate and fitting observance of Armistice Day, Ole Olson, Seattle's Mayor, recommended that each person devote five minutes to meditation. He did not suggest what one should concentrate on or think about, or whether one should think at all. Probably Ole thought there were plenty of subjects to meditate on without making any suggestions.

It is said the South Side debating society will have up for its next regular meeting the question: "Which Is the Most Demoralizing? 'Poker Playing, Crap Shooting, or Turkey Raising?'" Why the club should investigate the "moral effects" of these different varieties of sport may have been suggested by Chief of Police Wood's edict "That no turkey raffles will be allowed."

Business is going right ahead in Richmond, the smoke is rolling out of the smokestacks as usual, business blocks continue to be built and those who made the bluff that they would leave town if the harbor bonds didn't carry, are enjoying the usual full dinner pail. Richmond is all right, and the busiest little city on the map.

Richmond Orders Another Supply

A Different Kind of Magazine; Has Explosives

(Albany Argus)

The rumor that a magazine is to be transferred from Vallejo to Albany which would increase the latter city's population with 125 employees, editors, printers, etc., was hailed with delight by many, some believing that it was on account of the trouble the magazines publications were having with their printers in the east.

When acquainted with the fact that the magazine would contain explosives for the government, there was some disappointment. Many remember when the north terminus or nose of El Cerrito was blown up and off by an explosion of powder magazines about 18 years ago, and how it made the teeth of the natives chatter. But the new magazine said to be coming may be of a different brand.

The order consists of one ton of bacon, 100 cases corned beef, 5 cases corned hash, 100 cases evaporated prunes, from the army.

Five hundred cases string beans, 500 cases corn, 100 cases peaches, 100 cases pears, 500 cases peas, 25 cases raisins, 500 cases salmon, sacks beans, cases cotton seed oil, from the navy.

Special sermons were delivered Sunday by Rev. Thomas A. Boyer of the First Christian church and Rev. Paul Little of West M. E.

Rev. Boyer preached his annual sermon to a large congregation, many Elks being in attendance.

Rev. Little's audience was made up of a large delegation of the American Legion to whom he preached an Armistice Day sermon.

How Do You Account For This?

Richmond is on her good behavior. The following is the report of Chief of Police Wood:

During the first four months of the fiscal year 1918 there were 298 arrests and $994 collected in fines. For the same period in 1919 there were 146 arrests and $425 collected in fines.

Quite a difference.

Thirty other Chinese already have been admitted. The governor explained the deviation from his proclamation of September 14, prohibiting immigration of all Asiatics by the statement that Mexican laborers did not respond to the demand for help in harvesting the heavy cotton crop and that additional labor was imperative. The order of admittance was based on a ruling by the Secretary of State of Mexico.

Pasadena.—That this city still has plenty of vacant houses, despite reports to the contrary, is the assertion of Prof. W. H. Holland of the Board of Education staff, who is directing the taking of a school census here. Enumerators have been asked to keep track of vacant houses and report finding them in every section of the city. In many districts as many as ten being discovered vacant out of every hundred called on. DAY OF THANKS PROCLAIMED; PEACE RECOMPENSE, WILSON SAYS

Washington.—President Wilson has set aside Thursday, November 27, as Thanksgiving day, in a proclamation which said the country looked forward "with confidence to the dawn of an era where the sacrifices of the nations will find recompense in a world at peace."

The proclamation follows: "By the President of the United States of America: A proclamation."

"The season of the year has again arrived when the people of the United States are accustomed to unite in giving thanks to Almighty God for the blessings which He has conferred upon our country during the 12 months that have passed. A year ago our people poured out their hearts in praise and thanksgiving that through divine aid the right was victorious and peace had come to the nations which had so courageously struggled in defense of human liberty and justice. Now that the stern task is ended and the fruits of achievement are ours we look forward with confidence to the dawn of an era where the sacrifices of the nations will find recompense in a world at peace."

"But to attain the consummation of the great work to which the American people devoted their manhood and the vast resources of their country they should, as they give thanks to God, recommit themselves to these principles of right which triumphed through His merciful goodness. Our gratitude can find no more perfect expression than to bulwark with loyalty and patriotism those principles for which the free peoples of the earth fought and died."

"During the last year we have had much to make us grateful. In spite of the confusion in our economic life resulting from the war we have prospered. Our harvests have been plentiful and of our abundance we have been able to render succor to less favored nations. Our democracy remains unshaken in a world torn with political and social unrest. Our traditional ideals are still our guides in the path of progress and civilization."

"These great blessings, vouchsafed to us, for which we devoutly give thanks, should arouse us to a fuller sense of our duty to ourselves and to mankind to see to it that nothing we may do shall mar the completeness of the victory which we have won. No selfish purpose animated us in becoming participants in the world war, and with a like spirit of unselfishness we should strive to aid by our example and by our co-operation in realizing the enduring welfare of all peoples and in bringing into being a world ruled by friendship and goodwill."

"Therefore, I, Woodrow Wilson, President of the United States of America, hereby designate Thursday, the 27th day of November next, for observance as a day of thanksgiving and prayer by my fellow-countrymen, inviting them to cease on that day from their ordinary tasks and to unite in their homes and in their several places of worship in ascribing praise and thanksgiving to God, the Author of all blessings and the Master of our destinies."

"In witness whereof I have hereunto set my hand and caused the seal of the United States to be affixed. Done in the District of Columbia this 25th day of November, in the year of Our Lord one thousand nine hundred and nineteen, and of the independence of the United States the one hundred and forty-fourth."

(Signed) "WOODROW WILSON."

By the President:
Robert Lansing, Secretary of State.

Long Beach.—Several sticks of red fire, looking very much like dynamite and with fuses attached, caused the police to take a package received by a Long Beach druggist from a Los Angeles wholesale house to a lonely spot on the beach and burn it with considerable caution. The only result was a display of Fourth of July Pyrotechnics. The wholesale house cannot explain the presence of the "red fire" in the shipment.

Turlock.—Three hundred high school students marched in procession through the principal streets of the town November 4, following a banner on which was inscribed the legend, "We Want a High School Now." It was by way of protest against the existing high school situation here, the erection of a much-needed new building having been blocked for the past four years by a factional quarrel over the location, the matter still being in court. The youngsters say they refuse to be longer defrauded of their rights and mean to keep after all concerned until they get their new school building.

It was said that work on the project would begin very soon.

Modesto.—The P. Shafer Company recently announced that it sold the Tenth and I street corner of its two-story building to the Bank of Italy for $60,000. R. F. The bank had an option under a two-year lease to buy the property. The option was closed recently and the sale completed. The price of nearly $1500 per front foot is the highest paid for Modesto property in some time.

Los Angeles.—A judgment for $500 was given James A. Murray, Eastern baseball umpire, in the superior court here in his suit against Thomas Kennedy, motion picture actor, for assault during the post-season series between St. Paul and Vernon baseball teams. Although Murray and Kennedy had agreed to a cash settlement, the umpire insisted that his suit should be filed in regular order and a judgment given, that he might go back East vindicated of any charge of rowdiness, which only a court judgment could do.

San Francisco.—Miss Elsie Chamblin, who for several years has been assistant auditor of the Hotel Bellevue, is to retire shortly, and it has just been learned among her friends that she is to become the bride of Archibald M. Alexander, Western manager for the Gorman Silver Company. The wedding date has been set for December 1. The honeymoon is to be passed in the East. Alexander has been in business in San Francisco for many years, and as manager of the silver company has been associated with the Nathan Dohrmann Company, handling their hotel supply department. Miss Chamblin is an attractive young woman, with a large circle of friends, and is among the most popular of the office force of the Hotel Bellevue.

Porterville.—Members of the Park Commission have filed with the City Council a report recommending an issue of $60,000 in bonds for construction of a Greek theater and a municipal memorial auditorium in Luther Burbank park, at the same time suggesting that the name of the park be changed to "Murry" park, in honor of George G. Murry, who gave the property to the city. City Engineer F. W. Pease has filed a report that $45,000 will be needed for the construction of new bridges over Porter slough, leading into the business district. It probably will be the purpose of the council to unite these proposals with a plan for permanent protective work on Tule river to guard this city and district from high water.

Berkeley.—Protest against the proposed plan of the city of Berkeley to unite with San Francisco in the Hetch Hetchy water project was made to the city council by W. C. Le Hane of Modesto, speaking for the Modesto and Turlock irrigation districts. He said the farmers were prepared to spend $1,000,000 in fighting the issue and that the Raker bill provides the San Joaquin valley farmers shall have first call on the Hetch Hetchy water supply.

Vallejo.—Phyllis Wagner, twenty-year-old Berkeley girl, who was reported missing since Sunday, when she left some companions with whom she was walking in Oakland, was found in a lodging house here. SKY PILOTS, DOCTORS AND PROFESSIONAL MEN IN UNIONS

Wimborne.—Clergymen, following the example of physicians and other professional men in England, are forming a trade union for the purpose of securing better conditions and more pay. The Rev. C. W. Lloyd-Evans, vicar of the parish church at Milborne St. Andrew, in the heart of Dorsetshire, is leading the movement, and he is in receipt of letters from clergymen in all parts of the country pledging support.

Most of his correspondents unite in scoring bishops. One says: "The clergy may go to the workhouse for all the bishops care."

"We want a regular trade union," writes still another, proposing "a clerical strike if our demands are not listened to and our grievances redressed by those in authority without delay."

Lloyd-Evans, says the clergymen, when organized, will demand a minimum salary of $2500 a year, and increased pensions.

MOTHER WHO SLEW CHILDREN IS ADJUDGED INSANE

San Francisco.—Mrs. Helen Faust, who on Saturday afternoon, November 1, poisoned her two babies in her home at 3 Broderick street, was adjudged insane by Superior Judge E. P. Mogan at the Detention Hospital. She will be sent to the State Hospital at Napa.

Mrs. Faust's mind is believed to have become deranged from grief over the death of her husband, Lieutenant Thomas Faust, an army aviator, last January. Since the double murder the woman has maintained a stolid silence and does not recognize even her mother, Mrs. Hattie Sites.

Dr. John Clark, the coroner's autopsy surgeon, failed to ascertain the kind of poison that ended the lives of the children, Gilbert, 4 years old, and Thomas, 7 months old. The stomachs have been sent to the city chemist for analysis.

ALTURAS AUTHORITIES BAFFLED BY SLAYING

Alturas.—Local civil authorities are attempting to unravel the mystery surrounding the poisoning of Frank Peck, which resulted in his death and his wife's subsequent attempt to end her life by slashing her throat. She may die.

Peck, a prominent rancher of Surprise Valley, met his death, according to a coroner's jury, from strychnine poisoning at the hands of persons unknown. Mrs. Peck, denied having administered the poison to her husband.

Weaverville.—A "cow case" that has attracted a good deal of attention in Trinity county since May, 1918, has been decided by Judge James W. Bartlett in the Superior Court. Down in the Mad river country, where H. J. Kohnenberger staked out a valuable cow on the open range, some of J. D. Cobb's cattle came along and attacked the $150 cow and killed her. Kohnenberger sued Cobb in the township court and got judgment against him for $50. Cobb appealed to the Superior Court and there Judge Bartlett decided, after an expensive trial, that Kohnenberger should not receive any damage whatever. The decision is virtually to the effect that damages done to cattle by other cattle on unenclosed land are not actionable.

Modesto.—A net profit of $50,000 was made on 500 cars of fresh fruit shipped out of Modesto and Stanislaus county by G. O. Whitney and H. L. Wood, partners in the fruit buying business, according to an application for an injunction filed in the Superior Court here by Whitney against Wood for an accounting. Whitney claims in his complaint that he was to receive 25 per cent of the net profit of the business in 1919, when the partnership agreement was drawn up last May. Of the $12,500 Whitney claims he is entitled to, he has received $3915 only according to the complaint.

San Francisco.—A call for the first Republican meeting in California preparatory for the presidential and congressional elections of 1920 to be held in San Francisco November 22, was sent out last week to leading Republicans throughout the state by Raymond Benjamin, Republican state chairman, and J. E. Olmstead, chairman of the First California district Republican congressional committee.

Modesto.—Permits have been issued to the Modesto Gas Company for the construction of $74,450 worth of new improvements, as follows: Gas building, $2000; gas holder, $27,000; boiler and accessories, $7750; gas generator, $9000; purification apparatus, $6000; accessory equipment, $1700, and water plant, $1000.

Los Angeles.—Burglars secured furs valued at more than $4000 by breaking the show windows of the A. E. Colburn shop at 806 South Broadway. Among the articles stolen were three sealskin coats, a moleskin coat and a moleskin scarf.

Sacramento.—Governor Stephens has completed signing 3600 golden scrolls which will be given by the state to relatives of men and women of California who gave their lives in the world war.

"Flu" Is Coming Back This Year, Warning of Surgeon General

"Will the 'flu' come back this year?"

This question, being asked by thousands of scientists and millions of laymen, is discussed by Surgeon General Blue of the public health service in an official bulletin, in which it is said that the plague probably will reappear but not be as severe as last winter.

"Probably, but by no means certainly, there will be a recurrence of the influenza epidemic this year," says General Blue.

"Indications are that, should it occur, it will not be as severe as the pandemic of the previous winter. City officials, state and city boards of health should be prepared for a recurrence. The fact that a previous attack brings immunity in a certain percentage of cases should allay fear on the part of those afflicted in last year's epidemic."

"Influenza is spread by direct and indirect contact. It is not yet certain that the germ has been isolated or discovered, and there is yet no positive preventive, except the enforcement of rigid rules of sanitation and the avoidance of personal contact."

"We may expect at least local recurrences in the near future, with an increase over the normal mortality from pneumonia for perhaps several years, and certainly we should be, as far as possible, prepared to meet them by previous organization of forces and measures for attempted prevention, treatment and scientific investigation."

"There should be no repetition of the extensive suffering and distress which accompanied last year's pandemic. The most promising way is 'preparedness.' And now is the time to prepare."

"No mention has been made of a cure. So far as the most careful scientific investigations have been able to determine, none has been discovered, and suggested remedies which gave most encouragement are even now in their experimental stage."

"Evidence collected during last winter's pandemic points strongly to infected eating and drinking utensils, especially in places where food and drink are sold to the public, as being one of the modes of transmission of this disease."

THE OPEN WINDOW

My tower was grimly builded,
With many a bolt and bar,
"And here," I thought, "I will keep my life"
From the bitter world afar.

Dark and chill was the stony floor,
Where never a sunbeam lay,
And the mold crept up on the dreary wall,
With its ghost touch, day by day.

One morn, in my sullen musings,
A flutter and cry I heard;
There clung a frightened bird,
And I kept till its wings were reared.

Then back I flung the shutter,
That was never before undone,
And I kept till its wings were reared
The little weary one.

But in through the open window,
Which I had forgot to close,
There had burst a gush of sunshine
And a summer scent of rose.

For all the while I had burrowed
There in my dingy tower,
Lo! the bird had sung and the leaves had danced,
From hour to sunny hour.

And such balm and warmth and beauty
Came drifting in since then,
That the window still stands open
And shall never be shut again.

—Edward Roland Hill.

SHANTUNG

Has 30,000,000 People; Size of Small State

If you wish to realize the blessings of your native land, where there is plenty of room and plenty to eat, go and look at the province of Shantung, writes Niska.

Shantung has thirty million people, but it is no bigger than the state of Illinois. Not a scrap of anything is wasted in Shantung. The Chinese girls there weave the discarded scraps of their brothers into the hair nets that American girls wear when they go motoring. The silk worm, which probably yields more wealth in proportion to what he eats than any other creature, is the most important domestic asset.

The great majority of the thirty million Chinese in Shantung just barely exist.

To add to the misery of this human mass, the ruthless Hwano-Ho river splits the province of Shantung with a yellow flood, which once a year rises over its banks, and kills and destroys. It is held back by dikes that tower above the homes of the poor, keeping them always in the shadow of death. As everywhere else in the civilized world, an aristocracy, both oriental and European, sits on the shoulders of this impoverished yellow mass. Tsing-Tau the chief port, is a sort of Chinese Atlantic City full of splendid hotels and homes, rich and beautiful.

Nearly 7,000 Bison Are in Captivity, Records Show

The American bison has been saved. The species was threatened with destruction by wild game hunters. This has been prevented, says "Boys' Life," and there are now nearly 3,000 bison in captivity and some seventy running wild in the United States, and over 3,000 in captivity and 500 in the wild state in Canada. Only a little over 1,000 head were known to be in existence when the protective movement started. Records show more than 900 calves born in 1917.

Spider Is Credited With Being Original Inventor of Familiar Diving Bell

It is said that the diving bell was invented by the spider; at least, that it was used by that insect long before hydraulic engineers made one for the same purpose.

The diving bell is a cup-shaped body, with an open end that is let into the water. The air is caught in the bell and keeps the water from rising beyond a certain level at any specified depth, permitting anyone inside to breathe.

The improvement of the diving bell known as the calson is a huge pipe which has compartments, into which air is pumped from above. The spider's bell is filled more in this manner than in any other.

The spider's abdomen is so made that a bubble of air can be caught underneath it and carried into its structure. In this little water house the spider spends the winter and rears its young. The house also acts as a lair from which the spider, known as the naiaid, can jump on unsuspecting prey. Another peculiar thing about the naiaids is that they never get wet. They have thousands of small hairs on their bodies which prevent the air from being washed off and which protect them.

Average Life of a Tank in Battle Was 47 Days, According to Figures

The average life of a tank in battle was forty-seven days, and nearly one-half of the American fleet of seventy-eight were put out of action the first day of the Argonne battle. Brig-Gen. Samuel D. Rockenbach, tank corps commander, has disclosed these figures to the senate military committee in urging continued development of tanks, pointing out that damage to the tanks and casualties among the crews were light.

In August, 1917, he said, the United States had no tanks, but obtained 150 from the French in September. In the St. Mihiel fighting 417 French, British, and American tanks took part. In the Argonne, while the American fleet of seventy-eight tanks was reduced to twenty-four the second day and to twenty-four ultimately, only six were hit by shells.

At one time plans were considered for equipping taxicabs with "tin covers," lacking tanks, General Rockenbach said, as it was known that the enemy would surrender when the fighting machines have in sight, so great was the fear of tanks.

WISE MEN SAY—

That working will get you farther than whining.
That misery is rust on a mind that has stopped working.
That the smaller the mind, the longer it takes to make it up.
That he who lives without folly is not as wise as he imagines.
That the man who never does anything he doesn't like rarely likes anything he does.
That wit should be used as a shield for defense rather than as a sword to wound others.

BOTTLES OF BOOZE BURIED AS BULBS BOON TO BURGLARS

Chicago.—In the first blush of excitement over reports that thirsty thieves were operating among the best cellars in Lake Forest, Mrs. C. Moore Ely, a society woman, didn't think of labeling her precious liquid possessions as "phonograph records" and storing them in the Victrola.

She had been planning a trip to the Orient in company with Mrs. William R. Odell, and was worried about the increasing difficulty of keeping her cellar under her house.

So she moved the jugs and bottles into the conservatory and buried them with the bulbs and potted plants. But the moral seems to be that caution doesn't count against the thief and seizure.

Some "miners" entered the conservatory Tuesday, it was reported to the Lake Forest police, and dug up the sunken garden. Most of the soil in the conservatory assayed about 8 per cent.

The uprooting of the root of all evil was thorough. But none of the geraniums were disturbed.

THIS WEAK, NERVOUS MOTHER

Tells How Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Restored Her Health.

Philadelphia, Pa.—"I was very weak, always tired, my back ached, and I felt sickly most of the time. I went to a doctor and he said I had nervous indigestion, which added to my weak condition kept me worrying most of the time. I said if I could not get well, I heard so much about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound."

"I took it for a week and felt a little better. I kept it up for three months, and I feel fine and can eat anything without distress or nervousness."—Mrs. J. WORTHING, 2342 North Taylor St., Philadelphia Pa.

The majority of mothers nowadays, overdo, there are so many demands upon their time and strength; the result is invariably a weakened, run-down, nervous condition with headaches, backache, irritability and depression—and soon more serious ailments develop.

It is at such periods in life that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound will restore a normal healthy condition, as it did to Mrs. Worthling.

Origin of Jury System: Attributed to Peoples of European Countries

The exact origin of the jury system is not known with certainty, it having been attributed to different European peoples which at an early period developed methods of trial somewhat similar to the early jury trials in England. Trial by battle was cast in the background by the Norman conquerors when the Norman institution of recognition by sworn inquest was adopted. The Curia Regis, or King's court, directed the sheriff to select 12 knights of the county by whom 12 knights were selected to serve as recognitors. After being duly sworn they inquired into the facts of interest to the new rulers of England which might be subject to public inquiry, such as matters affecting taxation.

Suitors in cases affecting the title of real estate, as early as the reign of Henry II, 1154 to 1189, applied to the king's court for recognitors whose verdict, if unanimous, was accepted as conclusive.

Originally the jury was selected because of their knowledge of the people, locality and customs and thereby passing upon the facts from a more intimate knowledge of them. During the reign of Henry IV, the jury was instructed to judge the facts upon the evidence submitted to it, which is the single function of the jury of modern practice.—Kansas City Star.

United States Leads All Other Nations of World in Production of Ships

Steamships under the American flag now comprise 24.8 per cent of the steam tonnage of the world, the United States shipping board announced.

"Today this nation has more shipworkers, more shipyards, more ship ways, more vessels under construction, and is turning them out more rapidly and in greater number than any other nation in the world," the statement says.

"Up to the outbreak of the war we had only 15 vessels of 1,000 tons and over in overseas trade. Today the American flag floats from 1,280 ocean-going steamships, 1,107 of which have been built within the last two years.

Victory, "Dead Sea Fruit"—Defeat Spells Disgrace

Leaving baseball, football and boxing aside there is no longer a great disparity between woman's and man's athletic prowess. But whether the woman should be permitted to compete with the men in the golf, tennis, shooting and other championships is debatable ground. If the men oppose it one can hardly blame them, for it must be years before victory over a woman will be regarded as anything but "Dead sea fruit," and defeat as anything but a disgrace.

COTTON TO BE STORED FOR BENEFIT OF PROFTTEERS

Santa Rosa.—With the purchase of 400 bales of 1919 hops from John Miller here Saturday, W. M. Richardson, a local buyer, virtually cleaned up the season's hop crop. During the season he has made a record purchase of approximately 9000 bales, for which he has paid nearly $1,500,000. The hops are for an Eastern concern and comprise the greater part of the 1919 crop in Sonoma county. There now remain only about 50 bales of this year's hops in the hands of growers of Sonoma county.

Hope Abandoned.
"Conscription has, maybe, saved the country," growled the Tommie, "but what I object to is the company it drives a man into. I'm a plumber by trade and an honest workman, yet I'm compelled to suffer the society of such professionals as a lawyer, a minister and an auctioneer."

"Not a bad selection at that, Bill," remarked his friend.

"Oh, maybe not in a way, but when the minister and the lawyer start an argument on Egyptian law in the middle of the night across a half-dozen beds, what chance has even a plumber of stopping the gas leak?"—Minneapolis Tribune.

Laugh When People Step On Your Feet

Try this yourself then pass it along to others. It works!

Ouch! ! ! ! This kind of rough talk will be heard less here in town if people troubled with corns would follow the simple advice of this Cincinnati authority, who claims that a few drops of a drug called freestone when applied to a tender, aching corn or hardened callus stops soreness at once, and soon the corn or callus dries up and lifts right off without pain.

He says freestone dries immediately and never inflames or even irritates the surrounding skin. A small bottle of freestone will cost very little at any drug store, but will positively remove every hard or soft corn or callus from one's feet. Millions of American women will welcome this announcement since the inauguration of the high heels. If your druggist doesn't have freestone tell him to order a small bottle for you!—Adv.

MAKE THE CHILD PHYSICALLY FIT

The California State Board of Health says this is the day of the Child—particularly of the American child.

With the entry of the United States among the world powers, the importance of the American child has become tremendous.

Nothing in the world today is of greater moment than the development of this child of Liberty.

Upon his shoulders rests the task of perpetuating the ideals upon which the Nation was founded.

It is upon him that we must depend to keep America for the Americans.

Under the new social and political conditions his work will be no gentle pastime.

To make him fit for future responsibilities will require the provision of every attribute that makes for education and for physical well being.

By giving to the Nation strong, healthy, intelligent children California can best prove her devotion to the principals of Liberty upon which the Nation was founded and can best prove her fealty to the bonds that hold the United States in everlasting union.

Every California child has a right to demand that he be given every opportunity to be healthy. His health is of public as well as private concern.

A DIFFERENCE BETWEEN POLITICAL BANKING AND BUSINESS BANKING

The Scandinavian Bank of Fargo, N. D., with a reported capital of $50,000 and a surplus of $10,000 was investigated and closed by the state banking board. The bank's liabilities were about $1,600,000, with non-partisan league activities owing it $750,000. North Dakota has five supreme judges, elected by the non-partisan league, who decided the bank was not insolvent.

The question arises: Which is the safest? A bank conducted and governed by politicians with personal ambitions, or a bank run on business principles independent of party politics?

BACK TO THE FARM

Labor unions criticize the farmer for not organizing his political and industrial fortunes with them. It seems, under present conditions, as in the past, the farmer must put in 18 hours per day to feed the six-hour aristocratic union man in the city. It would seem that there is a dearth of the former an over-supply of the latter. Farming is not attractive to the 6-hour city workingman. The high and increasing cost of farm produce, may have a tendency to relieve the congested cities of "non-producers." Back to the farm is an appropriate slogan at this time.

Practice home industry as you would the Ten Commandments, and talk it as vigorously as you do the "Star Spangled Banner," if you would bring prosperity to your city and state.

WANTS ALL THE TRIMMINGS.

"I remember when we used to be able to buy a girl a dish of ice cream for a nickel."

"Now?"

"Now she doesn't think you've bought her anything unless you pay at least 35 cents for it."

A True Sentinel

'Neath your divine shadow,
On Flag Red, White and Blue,
True Sentinel I stand
To guard and protect you.

From the far frozen North
To 'tense tropical heat,
You dash triumphant forth
When there's trouble to meet.

Countless are your glories,
On all the Earthly scenes,
Many wondrous stories
Tell your true Guards-Marines.

Your Stars were never dimmed
By cowardly retreat
But every tyrant's stroke
Added to his defeat.

No harm shall befall thee,
Thy honor we'll uphold,
Guardians of the Free,
We're Marines as of old.

No tyrant shall destroy
Freedom's Light where once seen,
Not while there's but one Boy
Called the U. S. Marine!

GETTING THE WORST OF IT.

"Did you write those passionate letters to the plaintiff?"
"Why—er—those letters were written by my subconscious self," answered the unhappy defendant.
"Ha!" sneered the lawyer. "I'll leave it to the intelligent gentlemen of the jury to decide if your 'subconscious self' also implanted kisses on this young woman's chaste lips."
